Where are we now?

- Highly successful
- Learner focused
- Transformative model of collaborative teaching for school and community

PYP – foundation for life

“The IB sits in an enviable position as a globally recognised, highly respected brand, associated with the highest quality of education provision. Its products are unique in the purity and clarity of their underlying philosophy and are recognised as those at the forefront of educational best practice.”

“This ethos-driven background and not for profit ownership give the PYP a sense of purity: It has not been developed as something easy to teach, or with affordability as a key driver, although these are important considerations. Instead, the PYP has been developed as a product that gives children the best possible educational start in life, and the purity of the vision behind the service lessens any challenges around its implementation.”

Lehigh Report

The programme is perceived as successful for creating a shared vision of learning that extends from leadership to teachers, learners and their parents and beyond into the larger community—a community of learners.

Schools note the indicators of success in this area were a sense of unity, coherence, common purpose and ownership of the program among all stakeholder groups in the school.

Outsell Analysis

“...for many schools, the real issues of accessibility relate to the upfront and ongoing costs associated with implementing the PYP...”

“The PYP’s high cost makes it extremely difficult for some groups of schools to implement.”

“Inexperienced teachers may not know where to start, while others may believe they are continually reinventing the wheel”

“The lack of flexibility in the IB’s requirements made implementing the programme more difficult than it should be.”

Challenges identified

- Clarity of communication and articulation of the programme
- Cost and availability of IB professional development
- PYP alignment with national/local standards
- Meeting the needs of a wide spectrum of schools
- Digital world
- Assessment
- Increased support for implementation - exemplars, what does best practice look like?
- Collaboration - the time required and cost of collaboration – although the transformative results of this process were also identified as a strength.
- Increased language support

Analysis of ideas shaping Phase 5

Students to be active agents in their own learning

Importance of social and emotional aspects of learning

Teachers become architects of learning and active, engaged contributors to professional development

Ensure that the framework of the PYP is relevant and will stand the test of time

Enhanced integrity of the PYP: reinforced principles, research, foundation for a lifetime of learning

No change in PYP until 2018
