

Learning Centred Leadership Speaker's profile

Gerard Calnin

Research Fellow, Graduate School of Education at The University of Melbourne
Scholar-Practitioner, Education University of Hong Kong

Dr Gerard Calnin is a Research Fellow at the Graduate School of Education at The University of Melbourne. He is also a Scholar-Practitioner with the Education University of Hong Kong. His current research interests are in school leadership, teacher evaluation and school effectiveness. Prior to working at the University, Gerard held senior leadership roles in p-12 schooling and at the system/sectoral level; he was also an international research fellow in the USA and UK. Currently he is the Asia Pacific Representative for the International Baccalaureate Educator Certificates, part of the development team for the new IB Leadership Pathway, and is a WSL for leadership and governance workshops. He presents at conferences globally on a regular basis.